Aarti Drugs Ltd

Higher costs dent profitability

- 2QFY22 earnings of Aarti Drugs Ltd were below our estimates, impacted mainly because of higher raw material, freight and employee costs.
- Capex incurred is around Rs770m, and management gave capex guidance of Rs1-1.25bn for the remaining part of FY22F.
- We reiterate our ADD rating with a lower TP of Rs700, valuing the stock at 18x FY24F P/E.

2QFY22 earnings below estimates

Aarti Drugs' revenues were flattish in 2Q at Rs5.8bn, in line with our estimate of Rs5.8bn. Gross margin was at 31.8% (below our estimate of 33.5%), down 630bp yoy and flattish sequentially, mainly because of higher raw material costs. EBITDA fell 36.7% yoy/7.5% gog to Rs737m (below our estimate of Rs902m), and EBITDA margin contracted by 740bp yoy and 100bp gog, impacted due to lower gross margin, higher freight costs and one-off employee expenses due to a revision in the remuneration. PAT was at Rs426m (-43.5% yoy), (our estimate Rs559m) because of lower-than-expected operating performance.

Flattish volume and lower execution of orders impacts revenues

The API segment showed flattish volume growth on a high base (high API prices due to Covid disruption in 2QFY21) and a similar volume growth in antibiotics segment, hit by lower demand for therapies such as urinary tract infection, stomach infection and respiratory infection because of lockdowns due to Covid second wave. Higher input costs also led to lower execution of orders across major products. Formulation sales rose just 6% yoy, impacted by lower tender orders and shipment delays in exports, which management feels will pick up from 3QFY22F. We believe the gradual pick-up in volume growth and capacity expansion plans would lead to a 15% revenue CAGR over FY21-24F.

Higher input costs dent EBITDA margin

Lower gross margin due to higher raw material prices, freight rates and coal prices hit EBITDA margin. Aarti Drugs (ADL) is proactively taking price hikes across therapeutic areas to sustain its profitability, but they are not commensurate with the rise in input costs due to a lag in passing on price hikes. However, with more price hikes and freight and coal costs stabilizing, ADL sees EBITDA margin normalizing in two-to-three quarters.

Reiterate ADD rating with lower TP of Rs700

We downgrade our EPS estimates by 24%/18%/17% for FY22F/FY23F/FY24F, respectively, assuming lower-than-expected API sales and gross margin. We believe that with raw material prices likely to stabilize from 4QFY22F, coupled with benefits from ramp -up of existing and new facilities, earnings will grow at a 9% CAGR over FY21-24F on a high base. We reiterate ADD rating with a lower TP of Rs700 (earlier Rs840) at 18x FY24F P/E. Key catalysts: i) Resolution of import alert on E-22 plant at Tarapur. Key risks: i) Any regulatory issue on its manufacturing facilities will impact net profit. ii) Any delay in capacity expansion plan will pose a downside risk. iii) Hindrance in sourcing raw materials.

Higher costs dent profitability

Key takeaways from the results conference call

API>

- API volume growth remained largely flattish in 2QFY22 on account of lowerthan-anticipated growth in antibiotics segment.
- Volume growth in antibiotic segment was impacted due to the second wave of Covid as the company's antibiotic portfolio caters to respiratory infection, urinary tract infection and stomach infection for which demand was lower due to the lockdowns.
- Therapeutic-wise revenue split as at Sep 2021-end: Antibiotics 46%, antiprotozoal 17%, anti-inflammatory 13%, anti-diabetics 11%, anti-fungal 10% and others 3%.
- Management said the company is seeing a pick-up in orders for metformin drug in 3QFY22F.
- Present capacity utilization of API plants is around 70%.
- In antibiotics and anti-protozoal segment, the company competes with China on finished products and, therefore, management believes it can benefit from recent price hikes.

Formulations

- Management said that 2Q had lower tender orders and shipment delays due to logistical challenges, which led to lower export formulations growth. Management believes that deferred export formulation sales would pick up from 3QFY22F.
- Present capacity utilization of formulations plant is around 70%.

EBITDA margin and gross margin

- EBITDA margin got impacted in 2Q due to a continuous increase in raw material prices, supply chain disruption due to power outages in China, spike in coal prices and higher freight costs.
- Management believes that the headwinds, in terms of higher freight costs and coal prices, are short-term in nature and expects them to taper off by the end of FY22F.
- Management said that it will consider further price hikes if there is an upward momentum in raw material prices. It has already taken price hikes and transferred them to customers in domestic business where the contracts are short-term in nature.
- Management expects EBITDA margin to come back to the normal level of 17-18% by 4QFY22F if raw material prices and other input costs stabilize.
- Out of total raw material purchases, 55% comprise imports and around 80% of total imports are from China. Most of the top 10 products are seeing their highest-ever raw material price hikes.
- Gross margin in 1QFY22 and 2QFY22 was similar, although management expected some improvement. It expects 3QFY22F to remain choppy, but expects 4QFY22F to report a better gross margin, assuming no further raw material price hikes.

Other highlights>

- Net debt to equity ratio was 0.50x as at 30 Sep 2021.
- Capex in 1HFY22 suffered a bit due to the second wave of Covid and the monsoon season that delayed civil works. But capex is expected to pick up in 2HFY22F.

- The company is at an advanced stage with the US Food and Drug Administration or USFDA in respect of the mock audit done on its E-22 unit at Tarapur. Recently, it also had an audit done by the Australian regulatory authority on the same plant and expects clearance from this body.
- Management stated that raw material inventory days are around 45-50.
- Management also stated that the gliptin plant was commissioned recently, and it has started supplying commercial batches.
